

THE WOODEN HOUSE

AUTHOR: There stood a small wooden house in the open field.

A mouse ran by.

MOUSE: Little house, little house! Who lives in the little house?

Nobody! I will live in this house!

AUTHOR: A frog hopped by.

FROG: Little house, little house! Who lives in the little house?

MOUSE: I am a mouse. And who are you?

FROG: I am a frog. Let's live together!

AUTHOR: So the mouse and the frog began living together. A hare ran by.

HARE: Little house, little house! Who lives in the little house?

MOUSE: I am a mouse. I live in this house.

FROG: I am a frog. And who are you?

HARE: And I am a hare. May I live with you?

AUTHOR: The hare jumped into the house and all of them began living together.

Then there came a fox. She knocked at the window.

FOX: Little house, little house! Who lives in the little house?

MOUSE: I am a mouse. I live in this house.

FROG: I am a frog.

HARE: And I am a hare. And who are you?

FOX: And I am a fox.

AUTHOR: The fox climbed into the house too. A wolf ran by.

WOLF: Little house, little house! Who lives in the little house?

MOUSE: I am a mouse. I live in this house.

FROG: I am a frog.

HARE: And I am a hare.

FOX: And I am a fox. And who are you?

WOLF: I am a wolf.

AUTHOR: The wolf climbed into the house too. They all started living together. A bear walked by.

BEAR: Little house, little house! Who lives in the little house?

MOUSE: I am a mouse. I live in this house.

FROG: I am a frog.

HARE: And I am a hare.

FOX: And I am a fox.

WOLF: I am a wolf. And who are you?

BEAR: And I am a bear! I want to live with you!

AUTHOR: The bear started climbing onto the roof and – crushed the whole house! All of the scared animals ran away!
